NIA INTERUNIVERSITY COURSE

Modern Greek II & IV

10-19 November 2023

Netherlands Institute at Athens

Doing archeological fieldwork, studying, travelling, doing an internship — in short staying in Greece is more engaging when you are able to communicate ... in Greek! The Nederlands Instituut Athene and Taalhuis Amsterdam together with the Modern Greek department of the University of Amsterdam have developed intensive Greek courses in Athens. The courses are geared to students and PhD's. In this 8 day course there are 4 to 4,5 hours of lessons each day (plus self study).

The next Modern Greek intensive course will take place from 10 November (arrival day) until 19 November (departure day) and will be conducted on two levels: II and IV.

Modern Greek II (Επικοινωνήστε ελληνικά 1 κεφ. 13-24) Modern Greek IV (Επικοινωνήστε ελληνικά 2 κεφ. 13-24)

These intensive courses take place at the Netherlands Institute and of course on the streets of Athens. In highly interactive lessons you will be encouraged to speak Greek from day one, and the teachers will mostly speak in the target language (Greek). The teachers will also help you to use the language outside the classroom by taking you on city tours to markets, theatres, museums and more. Of course you will also work on your grammar skills and build vocabulary.

Deadline for registration: 9 September 2023!

Price:

NIA students *: €150,-Non NIA students: €180,-

Others:€220,-

- * Students of the Universities of Amsterdam, Groningen, Leiden and Utrecht, and Radboud University and Vrije Universiteit.
-  Non-students can also stay at the Institute if availability allows it. Contact the NIA for availability and rates.

For registrations please use the online registration form.

For more information about the lessons or for questions about your level please send an email directly to info@taalhuisamsterdam.nl.